NEW JERSEY STUDENTS: MONEY FOR COLLEGE IS AVAILABLE!

A Message From Governor Christie

Dear Student,

Congratulations on choosing to further your education. As Governor, I appreciate the important role a highly educated workforce plays in ensuring New Jersey's global competitiveness and overall success. I also know that today, higher education is an important step toward achieving your individual dreams and goals.

As you start exploring your options beyond high school, I hope you will consider one of the many schools in New Jersey. I am proud that New Jersey's colleges and universities lead the nation in educational excellence. Our state boasts more than 50 public and private institutions, numerous career and technical schools, enrolls over 410,000 students statewide, and prepares students every day for success in the working world.

As you consider how to pay for your education, New Jersey has been among one of the top states in the country in aid dollars available for full-time students. The New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority is here to help make higher and technical education more affordable for you and your family. As you invest in your education now, remember it will have a lasting, positive impact for you, your family and New Jersey.

Good luck in your pursuit of higher education.

Sincerely,

Chris Christie
Governor

A MESSAGE FROM THE HIGHER EDUCATION STUDENT ASSISTANCE AUTHORITY EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Student,

Your hard work in school is an important reason why New Jersey is a national leader in education excellence. The State's high school graduation rate is ranked #1 in the nation. More than 85% of these graduates move on and attend college. New Jersey is also among the top two states in providing need-based financial aid award dollars per student. You should know that a college education is within your reach.

Governor Chris Christie is committed to providing an effective and affordable higher education for all New Jersey students. The New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (HESAA) is pleased to support Governor Christie's initiatives by offering comprehensive information and resources to assist with your search, including this issue of Going to College in New Jersey. In this convenient source, you will find extensive information about New Jersey's financial aid programs, colleges, and courses of study. As you explore your postsecondary options, consider the benefits of attending college in the Garden State. New Jersey has more than 50 degree-granting institutions with unique qualities and course offerings to suit your needs. Attending college in-state is also highly cost effective.

HESAA's helpful financial aid products and services include need- and merit-based grant and scholarship programs, the NJBEST College Savings Plan, the NJCLASS student loan program, and financial literacy counseling. Since 1959, HESAA has assisted approximately 5 million students with over $18 billion.

We hope this magazine furthers your interest in one of New Jersey's outstanding postsecondary institutions. Your college experience will greatly enhance your personal and professional growth, and open doors to amazing opportunities. The promise of a better future awaits you.

Best wishes,

Gabrielle Charette
Executive Director

WHY GO TO COLLEGE IN NEW JERSEY?

The reasons to select a New Jersey college or university are virtually endless, and the schools available to you are as varied as your interests.

When researching colleges, consider your own needs first. Do you prefer small classes or large ones? Is a bustling urban location what you desire, or perhaps you would rather learn tucked away in a more rural setting? Are athletics, social activities or clubs important?

No matter what your personal preferences, you need look no further than your home state to find the college that's right for you. Going to College in New Jersey features profiles of our 54 colleges and universities to give you greater insight into academic opportunities and campus life in the Garden State.

It's also important to think about your career goals when considering colleges. New Jersey's college graduates are competitive and prepared to pursue a profession or further study. Quality programs range from the arts to the high-tech. See pages 67 to 72 for a listing of degree programs available at schools in our state.

The cost of college may be a consideration in your search. However, college is a wise investment in your future. Statistics show that college graduates can expect to earn twice as much or more than those who lack a degree. In addition, New Jersey is committed to ensuring college access and affordability. Nearly one-third of New Jersey's full-time college students receive need-based aid. There are also merit scholarships for high-achieving students and highly affordable student loan programs.

Once you determine which schools interest you, be sure to write, phone, visit their web sites or take a tour. With so many options available, you only need to decide which New Jersey college or university suits you best.

AFTER HIGH SCHOOL

In New Jersey, students have access to a variety of postsecondary institutions including two-year community colleges, four-year colleges and universities and career schools. These institutions provide highly diversified programs of study to meet the individual needs of students as they prepare for future careers.

TWO-YEAR COLLEGES

Two-year colleges offer students the opportunity to earn an associate degree, including the Associate in Arts, the Associate in Science and the Associate in Applied Science. Your education at a two-year school can provide you with specialized training that can be immediately applied to a job following graduation. It can also prepare you for transfer to a four-year institution where you can complete your bachelor's degree.

New Jersey's county and community colleges primarily serve the residents of their respective counties. In most instances, students enroll in the institution that serves their county. However, if you live in a county without a community college or if your college doesn't offer the program you want, you can attend one of the other community colleges.

FOUR-YEAR COLLEGES & UNIVERSITIES

New Jersey's four-year colleges grant a bachelor's degree, which is also called a baccalaureate. A few offer an associate, and most have graduate degree programs. Four-year colleges generally offer a broad curriculum, unless the school specializes in a certain area of study, such as music. Graduates typically receive a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree. Some New Jersey colleges offer degrees with specialized titles such as a Bachelor of Science in Engineering or a Bachelor of Fine Arts. Some colleges offer programs leading to a Master or Doctorate.

TRANSFERRING FROM A TWO-YEAR SCHOOL

In, 2008, the New Jersey Presidents' Council approved the Comprehensive State-Wide Transfer Agreement. Under the provisions of this Agreement, an Associate of Arts (AA) or Associate of Science (AS) degree from a New Jersey community college will be fully transferable as the first two years of a baccalaureate degree program and will be considered to have completed all lower division General Education requirements. For additional information visit njtransfer.org, a joint initiative between the New Jersey Higher Education and the New Jersey Presidents' Council.

CAREER SCHOOLS

Career schools train students for a specific vocation. Programs of study are usually, but not always, shorter in duration than traditional colleges — ranging from 6 months to one year. Programs range from automotive repair to culinary arts, from electronics to paralegal, from gaming to health care. Career schools can also serve as a stepping stone to entry into a two-year or four-year degree program. For a list of career schools in New Jersey, visit www.careerschoolsinnewjersey.com

CHOOSING A COLLEGE

Choosing a college is an exciting decision. However, since your final choice will greatly impact your future, you should take time to figure out what you expect to learn and gain from your college experience.

First, consider yourself. What are your goals and interests? What are your academic strengths and weaknesses? Then consider the school including its academic characteristics, admissions policy, costs, student aid programs and student body. Determining what you want most and what a college can offer you will help you reach a decision about where to apply.

You can also narrow down your choices by attending college fairs, visiting college web sites, reviewing college planning guides (found in the library and on the web) and taking campus tours. Your high school guidance counselor can advise you on college preparation, planning and selection. You can also seek personal advice from friends and family.

APPLYING TO COLLEGE

Apply to the schools that most suit your interests and your objectives. You can obtain applications by contacting the college or you can apply online through the college's web site.

You may be required to complete an application for each school in which you have an interest, but there are alternatives to consider when targeting multiple schools. There are electronic and online resources that enable you to complete one application that will be accepted by participating schools. First, you should ask your target schools about their participation in electronic and online resources.

Tip! Your application may be your first introduction to an institution, and you want to make a good impression. Make sure your application is clean, neat and thoroughly completed. Make note of deadlines and submit your application well in advance. Proofread your application and your essay. Make a copy of your application and any attachments for your records. You may want to complete your application and your essay on blank paper first, so that corrections can be made before entering your information online or on the actual form.

GETTING ADMITTED

Four-year institutions have admissions requirements, which vary by school. To make an acceptance decision, institutions will carefully review the information you provide on your application and may require a personal interview or in some cases, a portfolio of your work.

County community colleges have open admissions policies.

This means if you have a high school diploma or a general educational development certificate (GED), or if you are at least 18 years old, you are guaranteed admission into the community college that serves your county. There are special entrance requirements for some programs. You must meet these requirements before you can be admitted to that program. Consult each school for specific admissions policies.

EARLY ADMISSION

Some institutions have early admissions or early access policies. This can be attractive to students who are absolutely certain about the school they want to attend. However, early admissions policies can restrict or prohibit you from applying to other schools. If you are uncertain about the school or need more information about costs and financial aid, you should carefully consider the pros and cons before seeking early admission.

COLLEGE APPLICATION FORMS MAY ASK FOR:

- > personal information
- > educational experience
- > high school transcript
- > standardized test scores
- > class rank
- > letters of recommendation
- > awards and honors
- > extracurricular activities
- > work experience
- > essay, if needed
- > social networking profiles

PLAN WISELY FOR A SUCCESSFUL FUTURE

When asked to identify the key ingredients of a successful future, many students believe it's getting into a good school or landing a great job. However, your future success and security will also depend greatly on your money management skills.

HESAA's Real Money 101 program is designed to introduce you to the world of budgeting, using credit wisely and personal finance. Our program provides information and tools for students to use to achieve financial independence after graduation.

For many, your first credit obligation is repayment of federal student loans. Real Money 101 teaches you the principles of smart borrowing and the steps to take if you ever run into trouble repaying debts.

If you should default (become 270 days delinquent) on a loan, the loan may be subject to collection costs and legal fees. There are many options to avoid default including forbearance, deferment, loan consolidation, income-based or extended repayment. You may also consult one of New Jersey's Licensed Budget and Credit Counseling Agencies found on our web site. If you are experiencing problems, call your lender or HESAA right away to find out what options are available to you.

For more information about money and debt management, call HESAA's Default Aversion Task Force at 1-800-792-8670, or view HESAA's Real Money 101 program on the web at hesaa.org.

Paying for College

Student financial aid is widely available in New Jersey, which ranks among the top states in the country in aid dollars available for full-time students. The Higher Education Student Assistance Authority (HESAA) administers New Jersey's student aid programs.

In New Jersey, state financial assistance is provided through grants for needy students, merit-based scholarships for high-achieving students, and state and federal student loan programs. In addition to aid from HESAA, you may receive assistance from federal and institutional aid programs. Generally speaking, grants and scholarships are considered "gift aid" or aid that does not have to be repaid. Student loans are sources of aid that must be repaid.

When determining your financial aid options, it is important to work closely with a financial aid counselor at any institution you are interested in attending. Your financial aid counselor will review your eligibility for state, federal and institutional assistance programs and prepare a financial aid package to help you meet the costs at that school.

STATE GRANTS

New Jersey's Tuition Aid Grant (TAG) Program is one of the nation's largest financial aid programs, and New Jersey ranks among the top states in providing aid for needy students.

Depending on your need and the type of institution you attend, a TAG award can cover up to the full cost of tuition or a portion of that cost. One in every three full-time New Jersey students receives TAG, and awards may be used at nearly all New Jersey postsecondary institutions, including community colleges, state colleges and eligible private colleges and universities.

To get the best idea of a family's ability to pay higher education expenses, eligibility for TAG is determined by a review of a number of factors, such as family income and assets, family size and the number of students in college. The cost of attendance is also taken into consideration, so you should never feel that a school is beyond your reach just because it is more expensive.

In New Jersey, aid for exceptionally needy students is also available in the form of Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) Grants.

■ How to Apply: To apply for TAG or EOF, you must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the additional state questions. The filing deadlines for the 2012-2013 TAG award cycle are October 1, 2012, for a fall or full-year award and March 1, 2013, for a spring award.

To be considered for an EOF grant for the 2012-2013 academic year, students must apply by October 1, 2012.

STATE SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAMS

New Jersey's merit-based scholarships recognize academic excellence while encouraging students to continue their education at in-state colleges and universities.

HESAA also administers several special scholarship programs. These include scholarships for students who have performed exceptional acts of heroism and for spouses and children of emergency service personnel and law enforcement officers who are killed in the line of duty.

NJ STARS

The New Jersey Student Tuition Assistance Reward Scholarship (NJ STARS) Program is an initiative created by the State of New Jersey that provides New Jersey's highest-achieving students with free tuition at their home county college. The NJ STARS award covers the cost of tuition, less any state and/or federal grants and scholarships, for up to five semesters. The award covers these costs for up to 18 credit hours per semester. New Jersey residents who graduate in the top 15.0 percent of their high school class, complete a rigorous high school course of study and achieve the required score on a college placement test to determine college readiness may be eligible.

NJ STARS II

The NJ STARS II Program is a continuation of the NJ STARS Program that provides funding to pursue a baccalaureate degree to those who earn an associate's degree from a county college and attain a cumulative GPA of 3.25 or higher. Under recent legislation, NJ STARS II awards can be used at all TAG-participating institutions, New Jersey four-year colleges and universities. The NJ STARS II award is now $1,250 per semester, subject to the prior application of other federal and state aid against tuition charges. All programs are subject to change based on annual state appropriation and legislative changes.

COLLEGE SAVINGS

Personal savings is an important source of funds for college. Today, students and families may invest for college through a number of savings plans. In New Jersey, the state college investment plan is NJBEST (New Jersey Better Educational Savings Trust). Saving with NJBEST offers many benefits, including state and federal tax-free earnings and a scholarship of up to $1,500 for eligible savers. Savings may be used for a variety of postsecondary educational expenses. For information, call (877)-4NJBEST.

STUDENT LOANS

Millions of students nationwide, including those who receive grants and scholarships, rely on affordable student loans to help pay for their education. There are two primary types of student loans: those made through a federal program, and private loans or supplemental loans.

Caldwell College is located in Essex County.

Caldwell College is located on a beautiful 70-acre campus, just 20 miles west of New York City. Founded by the Sisters of Saint Dominic, Caldwell is a private 4-year coed Catholic institution offering bachelor's, master's and doctoral programs.

The college's liberal arts core curriculum focuses on graduating students who can think critically, reason analytically, and write and communicate effectively. This core foundation, along with one of our 27 majors, prepares our graduates for today's global marketplace.

To meet the growing need for registered nurses, Caldwell offers a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) with a curriculum that includes liberal arts, sciences, and nursing courses. The BSN graduate is uniquely prepared to practice in all types of health care settings and to provide safe, effective patient care to a diverse population.

A leader in autism education, Caldwell offers New Jersey's only Ph.D. program in applied behavior analysis, an evidence-based approach to learning that is highly effective in treating children with autism. The college has a state of the art Center for Autism and Applied Behavior Analysis, where faculty conduct treatment research and both graduate and undergraduate students work hands-on with children who are on the autism spectrum and their families.

The college supports students with a first-year experience program to assist with the transition from high school, a second-year experience program to integrate career planning and explore majors, and strong advising and academic support services.

Caldwell has 11 NCAA Division II sports teams and is proud of its many scholar-athletes.

Students can take advantage of many exciting and enriching activities including clubs, community service, Greek life and campus ministry. Each Spring, the college holds "Caldwell Day," when classes are cancelled for one day and students, faculty, staff and administration go out into the community to volunteer and provide service to non-profit organizations.

Core values of respect, integrity, community and excellence influence academic and campus life. For more information about Caldwell College visit caldwell.edu.

Centenary College is located in Warren County.

Founded in 1867 by the Newark Conference of the United Methodist Church, Centenary College has evolved from a small preparatory school into New Jersey's fastest growing private college for higher learning.

Centenary provides traditional, accelerated, and online programs to suit every student's needs. We offer associate and bachelor degree programs in 19 undergraduate majors. Master's degrees and certificate programs are available.

Our college has the distinction of being New Jersey's first wireless campus (2002). Three years later, Centenary College was voted one of the country's "50 Most Unwired Campuses" by the Intel Corporation (2005). Hackettstown, the home of Centenary College, was voted one of America's Top 100 Towns by Money™ Magazine (2005).

Centenary College is accredited by the Middle States Association and the National Association of State Directors for Teacher Education and Certification. We are fully accredited by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC), the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE), and Specialized Accreditation by the International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education (IACBE).

Centenary's approach balances liberal arts studies with your own career goals. Each student stands at the center of an educational experience that encourages exploration, investigation, and practical learning. Our faculty are exceptional teachers. Many bring years of successful career experience into the areas they teach.

DeVry's programs respond to the needs of a diverse student population and a dynamic employment marketplace. Experiential learning is emphasized to forge a strong link between theory and practice. Rigorous, sharply defined technical curricula complement a broad-based program of general education to provide the coherence, depth and practicality that distinguish a DeVry education.

DeVry's degree programs in biomedical engineering technology and health information technology equip students for rewarding careers in healthcare technology, one of today's most rapidly growing occupational fields according to the U.S. Department of Labor. DeVry also offers degree programs in electronics engineering technology, electronics and computer technology, network and communications management, network systems administration, web graphic design, multimedia design and development, electroneurodiagnostic technology, computer information systems, business administration and technical management.

Eastwick College, located just 15 miles northwest of New York City in Ramsey, is well known among the tri-state's medical industry. Eastwick is the first proprietary college in the state recognized by the NJ Board of Nursing to offer a Registered Nursing associate degree, and the first to receive candidacy from the National League for Nursing. In addition, hundreds of hospitals, medical centers, and physicians' practices are affiliated with Eastwick College, offering students and graduates multiple externships, clinical rotations and employment opportunities.

Eastwick College offers associate degrees in registered nursing, cardiovascular technology, surgical technology, health science and health information technology. Each of the programs utilizes specialized hands-on laboratories where students train with some of the same equipment and procedures used in area physician facilities and hospitals. Graduates at Eastwick also receive lifetime placement assistance to help them secure a career in their field.

This support, combined with a commitment to student success, has earned Eastwick College its reputation as a leader in healthcare education. Visit www.eastwick.edu or call 201-327-8877 today to learn more about the college and how you can get started on a career in healthcare.

TEANECK, NJ

College at Florham
MADISON, NJ

Nearly 100 career-oriented majors ... hands-on professional internships ... opportunities to do research and study abroad ... Division I and Division III sports ... generous academic scholarships and grants ... and a global perspective in all your studies. These are just some of the many reasons students make Fairleigh Dickinson University their college choice.

The College at Florham in Madison features 178 acres of woods, gardens and historic buildings. Just minutes from New York City, FDU's contemporary Metropolitan Campus in Teaneck attracts students from all over the world.

As New Jersey's largest private university, Fairleigh Dickinson offers all the resources students expect of a major university. But FDU's multi-campus structure creates very personal living and learning environments that emphasize small classes and close student-faculty interaction. The average class size is under 20 students — and all classes, including first-year studies, are taught by faculty, not graduate assistants.

GLOUCESTER COUNTY COLLEGE

1400 Tanyard Road, Sewell, NJ 08080 | www.gccnj.edu

Gloucester County College is a comprehensive, co-educational, two-year college sponsored by the residents of the county through the Board of Chosen Freeholders. GCC's mission is to be a center for learning that strives for academic excellence, supports economic development, and seeks to enhance the community's quality of life. GCC offers programs to prepare students to transfer to four-year colleges and universities; and career programs that provide intensive one- or two-year skills training for immediate entry into the workforce. Already an affordable education, GCC offers a wide array of financial aid programs to help students finance their educations. These programs include NJ STARS, which pays for full-time tuition for Gloucester County high school graduates who place in the top 15 percent of their graduating class. When NJ STARS students graduate from GCC with a 3.25 cumulative GPA or better, they are eligible to transfer to any public or private NJ four-year college or university and may have their NJ STARS scholarship continue to cover a portion of their tuition. GCC has more than two dozen formal transfer agreements with prominent colleges and universities enabling students to continue toward advanced degrees in addition to degree specific articulation agreements with area colleges and universities. A new Dual Advantage partnership that enrolls students concurrently with four-year universities makes earning a bachelor's degree seamless transition with added benefits.

KEAN UNIVERSITY

1000 Morris Avenue, Union, NJ 07083 | www.kean.edu

Founded in 1855, Kean University has grown to become one of the largest metropolitan institutions of higher education in the region, boasting a richly diverse student, faculty and staff population.

Although Kean continues to play a key role in the training of teachers, it has also become a hub of educational, technological and cultural enrichment, offering more than 48 undergraduate degrees, and more than 45 options leading to a doctoral or master's degree, professional diploma and/or state certification in an assortment of concentrations.

Kean recently added its first doctorate programs, a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Urban Leadership and a Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) in the School of Psychology. The university also offers an opportunity for students wishing to pursue a career in medicine through a partnership formed by Kean, Drexel University College of Medicine in Philadelphia, and Saint Peter's University Hospital in New Brunswick. Five undergraduate colleges and the Nathan Weiss Graduate College now serve about 16,000 students.

In 2007, the university acquired the historic Liberty Hall Museum. Built in 1772, this valuable historic resource now serves as a venue for classes, lectures, and special presentations and is available to every department within the university, for creative learning opportunities.

Princeton University is located in Mercer County

Princeton University is a vibrant community of scholarship and learning that stands in the nation's service and in the service of all nations. It is a private university with undergraduate programs leading to the bachelor of arts and bachelor of science in engineering degrees. Methods of instruction vary, but common to all areas of the academic program is a strong emphasis on individual work and the free interchange of ideas and opinions. This is reflected most notably in the wide use of preceptorials and seminars, in the provisions for independent study for all A.B. upper-class students, in the requirement of a senior thesis and in the availability of a series of special programs to meet a range of individual interests.

Ramapo College of New Jersey is located in Bergen County

Ranked by U.S. News & World Report 2011 edition as fifth of the NJ state public institutions in the Best Regional Universities North category, Ramapo College of New Jersey is sometimes mistaken for a private college. This is, in part, due to its unique interdisciplinary academic structure, its size of approximately 5,928 students and its pastoral setting in the foothills of the Ramapo Mountains on the New Jersey/New York border.

Established in 1969, Ramapo College offers bachelor's degrees in the arts, business, humanities, social sciences and the sciences, as well as in professional studies, which include nursing and social work. In addition, Ramapo College offers courses leading to teacher certification at the elementary and secondary levels. The College also offers six graduate programs as well as articulated programs with the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, New York Chiropractic College, New York University College of Dentistry, SUNY State College of Optometry and New York College of Podiatric Medicine.

Undergraduate students choose to concentrate their studies in one of five schools with approximately 700 course offerings and 40 academic programs. Ramapo College boasts an average student/faculty ratio of 17:1 and average class size of 23, affording students the opportunity to develop close ties to the College's exceptional faculty.

The College's mission is focused on the four "pillars" of a Ramapo education: international, intercultural, interdisciplinary and experiential, all of which are incorporated throughout the curriculum and extracurriculum. The international mission is further accomplished through a wide range of study abroad and student exchange links with institutions all over the world through the New Jersey State Consortium for International Studies (NJSCIS). Additional experiential programs include internships, co-op and service learning.

Ramapo College of New Jersey is listed in the January 2012 issue of Kiplinger's Personal Finance Magazine as among the "100 Best Values in Public Colleges" for 2012. This is the sixth consecutive year Ramapo has been included in the "100 Best Values in Public Colleges." The college was ranked #48 for in-state tuition and fees and #39 for value in out-of-state tuition, and as one of three colleges in New Jersey in the Top 100.

Ramapo College also is one of 220 institutions recommended by The Princeton Review in the "Best in the Northeast" section in the The Best Northeastern Colleges, 2012 Edition.

Rutgers is located in Middlesex, Essex, and Camden Counties

Rutgers University is a premier public research university with world-renowned faculty and scholarly excellence in business, arts and humanities, and the sciences, including applied sciences from engineering to pharmacy. Rutgers is one of only 61 schools in the prestigious Association of American Universities. Rutgers and Princeton are New Jersey's only AAU members. Rutgers has three regional campuses in Newark, New Brunswick, and Camden. With over 100 majors to choose from, and more than 400 student clubs and organizations, Rutgers is a dynamic university with something for everyone. With more than 175 research centers supporting pioneering work in stem cells, climate change, DNA analysis and more, Rutgers is constantly breaking new ground and generating new knowledge. Sixty percent of our students conduct research as undergraduates. Rutgers attracts top students from all 50 states and more than 130 countries. While the costs remain low (Rutgers is ranked 6th in the nation and 1st in the northeast for educational value by the Wall Street Journal's SmartMoney Magazine), 86% of undergraduates receive some form of financial aid, averaging around $13,500 per year. Each year a number of academically talented students receive academic scholarships.

The College of New Jersey is located in Mercer County

The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) is a highly selective institution that has earned national recognition for its commitment to excellence. TCNJ currently is ranked as one of the 75 “Most Competitive” schools in the nation by “Barron’s Profiles of American Colleges” and is rated the No. 1 public “master’s” institution in the northern region of the country by U.S. News & World Report. TCNJ was also awarded, in 2006, a Phi Beta Kappa chapter, an honor shared by less than 10 percent of colleges and universities nationally. A strong liberal arts core forms the foundation for a wealth of degree programs offered through TCNJ’s seven schools—arts and communication; business; humanities and social sciences; education; engineering; nursing; and science. Specialized undergraduate research programs, internships, and global study opportunities rival the experiences offered by top private colleges, making TCNJ one of the best public values in the nation. The College is enriched by an honors curriculum, and its award-winning First-Year Experience and freshman orientation programs have helped make TCNJ’s retention and graduation rates among the highest in the country.

THE RICHARD STOCKTON COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY

101 Vera King Farris Drive, Galloway, NJ 08205-9441 | www.stockton.edu

Thinking translates into doing at Stockton. Gain hands-on experience in nursing, public health or physical therapy at the two hospitals on campus; conduct computational science or IT research in our high-powered computer labs or at nearby technology centers; “live” a hospitality and tourism internship 24/7 at the Seaview – Stockton’s world-class resort; study artistic techniques firsthand through our partnership with the nearby Noyes Museum of Art and at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, just an hour away; bask in our beautiful, 2,000-acre campus in the Pinelands Natural Reserve just minutes from the ocean (a natural lab perfect for our nationally recognized marine science and environmental studies programs).

Most Stockton students engage in independent study with a faculty mentor. Small classes allow for discussion, debate and discovery—guided by Fulbright scholars, the most-published scientists in the world and professors who care as much about teaching as research. Every major offers the personal attention and hands-on opportunities of a private college, yet at an affordable price.

Rooted in a deep social and environmental consciousness, Stockton offers extensive service learning and human rights opportunities and has become an international leader in alternative energy research and conservation efforts.

On the lighter side, over 10,000 events, more than 130 clubs and organizations, Greek life, academic and honor societies, intramural and club sports and study abroad options enhance the Stockton experience. As winners in two of the nation’s most competitive NCAA Division III conferences, Osprey spirit soars for 17 varsity sports.

The perfect size, the perfect place, at a public cost: Stockton College – as distinctive as you.

UMDNJ SCHOOL OF HEALTH RELATED PROFESSIONS

65 Bergen Street, Room 147, Newark, NJ 07101 | www.shrp.umdnj.edu

The School of Health Related Professions (SHRP) is an educational unit of the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey (UMDNJ). The mission of the School is to offer programs of education and training in selected health related professions. SHRP offers 37 health related specialties, in collaboration with 33 postsecondary institutions and over 600 health care organizations and agencies throughout the state and region. Programs range from short-term post-high school certificates through doctoral educational experiences. SHRP also offers joint programs with numerous collaborating public and independent colleges. Most of our collaborative joint programs require the students to complete their general education with the partner school and then come to UMDNJ-SHRP to complete the professional component of the program. SHRP has many programs beyond the entry level programs designed for practicing professionals. These programs are online and attract professionals across the country.

SHRP is located in Newark, Scotch Plains, Piscataway, Stratford and the Web. Check campuses from our website at <http://shrp.umdnj.edu/> .

8 STEPS TO APPLY FOR FEDERAL & STATE STUDENT AID

STEP 1 Get free information and help from your school counselor, the financial aid office at the college or career school you plan to attend, or HESAA at:

1-800-792-8670 or www.hesaa.org or the U.S. Department of Education (ED) at:

www.FederalStudentAid.ed.gov or 1-800-4-FED-AID (1-800-433-3243). Free help is available any time during the application process. You should never have to pay for help.

STEP 2 Get a PIN, a personal identification number. A PIN lets you apply, “sign” your online FAFSA, make corrections to your publication information, and more — all online. Go to www.pin.ed.gov.

STEP 3 Collect the documents needed to apply, including income tax returns and W-2 forms (and other records of income). A full list of what you need is available at www.fafsa.gov. Tax return not completed at the time you apply? Estimate the tax information, apply, and correct information later.

STEP 4 New Jersey State Deadlines:

First-time NJ State Grant Applicants Fall/Spring Applicants – October 1st, Spring Only – March 1st

Returning Tuition Aid Grant Recipients June 1st

Federal Deadlines Complete the FAFSA between Jan 1st and June 30th of the following year. BUT apply as soon as possible. To meet deadlines apply online at www.fafsa.gov.

STEP 5 To submit additional information required to be considered for New Jersey State grants and scholarships,

New Jersey residents should click the link on the FAFSA on the Web confirmation page entitled “Optional Feature – Start your state application...” Once completed you will be notified of the status of your State grant application by the New Jersey Higher Education Student Assistance Authority.

STEP 6 The U.S. Department of Education will send you your Student Aid Report (SAR) – the result of processing your FAFSA. Review your SAR, and if necessary, make changes or corrections and submit your SAR for reprocessing. You can submit corrections online at www.fafsa.gov. Your complete, corrected SAR will contain your Expected Family Contribution (EFC), which determines your federal student aid eligibility.

STEP 7 If you are selected for federal verification, your school’s financial aid office will ask you to submit tax returns, transcripts and other documents, as appropriate. Be sure to meet the school’s deadlines or you will not receive federal student aid. Note: The State of New Jersey may also request documents to verify information reported on the FAFSA.

STEP 8 All Students: Contact the financial aid office if you have any questions about the aid being offered.

First-Time Applicants: Review award letters from schools to compare amounts and types of aid being offered. Decide which school to attend based on a combination of (a) how well the school fits your needs and (b) its affordability after all aid is taken into account.

NEW 2012-2013 FINANCIAL AID APPLICATION procedures for students selected for federal or state verification!

VERIFICATION: A process where students and/or parents must provide proof that the information submitted on the FAFSA is accurate. New federal regulations now require a federal Tax Return Transcript, obtained from the IRS, as the only acceptable documentation. The State Tuition Aid Grant program is following these regulations to simplify your application process. Personal copies of your tax return are no longer acceptable documentation!

Requesting a federal Tax Return Transcript is as easy as 1-2-3!

Federal student loans offer fixed interest rates and favorable terms, including the option to defer repayment until you have completed your degree. Federal loans include the Direct loan for students, the Federal PLUS loan for parents and the Federal PLUS loans for graduate and professional students. Students may borrow Direct loans regardless of financial need; however, those with need may receive a subsidized loan. With a subsidized loan, the federal government will pay the interest that accumulates on the loan while you are enrolled in college, for a short period after you graduate (grace period), and during periods of authorized deferment. For Stafford Unsubsidized loans and Federal Plus loans, interest is the responsibility of the borrower.

HESAA makes supplemental loans available to undergraduate and graduate borrowers through the NJCLASS (NJ College Loans to Assist State Students) Program after their eligibility for all other forms of financial aid has been exhausted. The NJCLASS program is one of the most affordable supplemental student loans in the country.

NJCLASS loans have specific eligibility requirements. The program requires a borrower to meet both income and creditworthiness requirements, or have a creditworthy cosigner. A popular choice among college-bound students, NJCLASS can be used to pay a portion of the tuition or the entire cost of college. New Jersey residents can use NJCLASS to attend any approved college in the nation and non-New Jersey residents attending a New Jersey college can also use NJCLASS.

How to Apply: NJCLASS loans can be easily obtained by completing the online NJCLASS Xpress application. The application can be found on the HESAA website (www.hesaa.org).

For more information, call HESAA's toll-free hotline 1-800-792-8670.

BORROW WISELY

College costs are rising and more students are turning to loans to pay for their education. Borrowing money to pay for educational dreams is intelligent; borrowing too much is not. Borrowing should be a last resort after all student aid is exhausted. Student loans are a debt that must be repaid.

Determining your potential debt and your expected income allows you to make responsible financial choices about your future.

THE NJCLASS ADVANTAGE

Consider the advantages of NJCLASS when borrowing for college:

- 10- to 20- year repayment options of 6.6% to 8%
- either the student (with a co-signer) or parent may apply
- study at in-state or out-of-state schools
- low origination fee (2% to 3%)
- quick approvals
- loans for undergraduate, graduate and professional studies

*The interest rate will increase 0.75% from its initial level beginning with the borrower's fifth year of repaying the loan-principal; however, the repayment amount will not change.
